

Small-scale Hydropower and Energy Recovery Using Water Hammer Effects

Authors:

Ana Cristina Faria Ribeiro, Department of Chemistry, University of Coimbra, Coimbra, Portugal

A. K. Haghi, Department of Chemistry, Institute of Molecular Sciences, University of Coimbra, Coimbra, Portugal

This is an overview of the principles and practical applications of small-scale hydropower and energy recovery using water hammer effects. It offers new insights for engineers, technicians, and students alike, bridging the gap between theory and practice. The book shows that the excessive working pressure of water transmission lines has led to an increase in water accidents and water loss and how this excessive pressure of water can be converted to electrical power.

Inside this book, you will also find:

- In-depth explanations and visual aids along with numerous explanatory figures.
- Detailed discussions on key concepts, making complex ideas accessible and understandable.
- The standard and advanced protective measures, and thorough risk assessment methodologies to ensure the safety and reliability of hydropower systems.
- The hydraulic analysis, based on the simulation of Hammer, Fluent, Gambit, and ANSYS Meshing software by selecting the most suitable location for installing the hydro generator for dumping the excessive working pressure.
- Practical advice through networked sensors, and the Internet of Things (IoT) on effectively control water excessive working pressure and how to convert this pressure to electricity power in a district metering area (DMA).

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Introduction
- Materials and Methods
- Results and Discussion
- Conclusion

Small-scale Hydropower and Energy Recovery Using Water Hammer Effects

Ana Cristina Faria Ribeiro

A. K. Haghi

River Publishers

River Publishers Series in Power and Energy Systems

ISBN: 9788743807025

e-ISBN: 9788743807018

Available From: November 2025

Price:

KEYWORDS:

Water distribution network, water transmission line, water hammer, water excessive pressure, electricity power, piping system, hydraulic analysis, Internet of Things (IoT), district metering area (DMA), hydro generator.

www.riverpublishers.com
marketing@riverpublishers.com